Series 2008

Oppenheimer & Co. Inc.
Minneapolis, Minnesota

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In connection with the public offering and sale of the above-captioned bonds (the "Bonds"), we submit this Survey (the "Survey") that indicates the jurisdictions in which the Bonds may be sold by the Underwriter and other brokers and dealers in compliance with the securities laws (also known as the "blue sky" laws) of such jurisdictions. We have prepared this Survey as counsel for the Underwriter, and it is furnished only for their general information.

We are not members of the bar of many of the jurisdictions covered by this Survey. Accordingly, the Survey is based upon an examination of the regularly accepted unofficial compilations of the securities laws and regulations, if any, of the various jurisdictions referred to in the Survey. We have not obtained either (i) opinions of local counsel or (ii) formal rulings by administrative authorities in any jurisdiction with respect to this proposed offering. The Survey is furnished only for your general information and is not to be relied on as an opinion of counsel.

We note that the authorities responsible for administering the securities laws of the various jurisdictions typically have broad discretionary powers with respect to the offer and sale of securities, including the power to withdraw exemptions granted by the applicable statutes and the power to impose additional requirements, including notice filing requirements, with respect to securities offerings and the information which must be furnished by issuers and underwriters proposing to undertake an offering. Further, the Survey does not purport to cover the requirements or restrictions, if any, with respect to advertising material. Additionally, in those jurisdictions where licensed dealers or brokers may sell the Bonds, it is assumed that those persons have complied with all applicable statutes and regulations concerning registration and licensing of brokers, dealers, agents and salesmen.

Any statement in the Survey with respect to offers or sales to banks, savings institutions, trust companies, insurance companies (such terms having meanings attributed to them in the respective securities laws which we have surveyed) or similar institutions refers only to requirements of the securities laws relating to offers or sales of securities to those institutions generally. No opinion is expressed with respect to the legality of the purchase of or the investment in the Bonds or any other specific security by such institutions.

Very truly yours,

McGuireWoods LLP

Part I

Sales to the Public

The Survey indicates that the Bonds may be sold to the public in the following jurisdictions by brokers or dealers registered or licensed therein without registration or other related filings under applicable exemptions or otherwise. Brokers or dealers not registered or licensed in such jurisdictions should offer and sell the Bonds in such jurisdictions only in transactions specified in Part II.

Alabama	Hawaii	Michigan	Rhode Island
Alaska	Idaho	Mississippi	South Carolina
Arkansas	Illinois	Missouri	South Dakota
Arizona	Indiana	Nebraska	Tennessee
California	Iowa	New Jersey	Texas
Colorado	Kansas	New Mexico	Utah
Connecticut	Kentucky	North Carolina	Vermont
Delaware	Louisiana	Ohio	Virginia
District of Columbia	Maine	Oklahoma	West Virginia
Florida	Maryland	Oregon	Wisconsin
Georgia	Massachusetts	Pennsylvania	Wyoming

B.

The Survey indicates that in Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, New York, North Dakota, New Hampshire and Washington, certain action must be taken to establish an exempt status for or to register or qualify the Bonds for sale to the public by dealers or brokers registered or licensed therein. Before any of the Bonds are sold in these jurisdictions in transactions other than exempt transactions described in Part II, inquiry should be made of the Underwriters as to whether the action required to be taken will be taken and, if so, whether such action has been completed.
